

Colette Urban (1952-2013) was a Canadian multi-disciplinary performance artist who had a rich and varied career for over thirty years. I first saw her work at AKA Gallery in Saskatoon. She had produced an installation that included giant chocolate gophers. I instantly became a fan of the surreal sense of humour manifested in her work.

More about Colette Urban is found here -
Barbara Fischer, "Colette Urban: Of Children's Rhymes, Spiders, and Other Entrapments ... (1993)," Caught in the Act: an anthology of performance art by Canadian women, Tanya Mars & Johanna Householder, editors, YYZ Books, 2004, pages 406-413.

Outline for drawing

Suggestion - Chain Stitch, brown.

Chain Stitch

Resize the drawing and repeat it to create a pattern.

Slofemists

Title: Chocolate Gophers in Tribute to Colette Urban

Pattern By: Lori Weidenhammer

Date: 2013

